Today, Tomorrow, and the Future

Champions

Both Product and Executive Champions are needed

- Product champion are need to move projects across valley of death if inadequate bootleggers are available
- Product champion needed for every project
- Business executive champion needed for most all projects

Transformation ... will be tough!

- p The bigger the solution the less likely there is a customer*
- p The Defense industry and Congress have bigger stake in legacy forces, than in transformation*

Transformation ... will be tough!

- p Most of Corporate America has no desire to supply the defense system*
 - p Most research universities prefer to research “hard” science and technology and have little desire to research innovation, knowledge management, and business processes*
